JUDGE J. C. HANLEY DENIES RESIGNATION

Today

Pioneers in Old Age.
What Is a Bigot?
One Baby Octopus.
More Brokers; Tickers.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
[The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review.]

AMONG those wrecked on the ship Vestris 400 miles from shore were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Leunhauer, both past middle age, traveling third class, taking every dollar they had to begin life again in the Argentine.

THIS is the courage that has built up our western country, particularly the Pacific coast. Old people go there with their money, and descriptions they send back bring out the young people.

PROF. BOWMAN of the department of economics in Columbia university, says this country "boasts of its religious freedom" and is cursed with bigotry. It is, and will be for some time.

A man is a "bigot" in the eyes of other religions when he takes his own religion too seriously.

EVEN Uncle Sam doesn't realize how big a country he owns, or what his prosperity is destined to be.

A few years ago there was much excitement because "the octopus Standard Oil" had run up in value to a thousand millions. Something must be done and WAS done.

THE octopus was cut into little pieces. One piece lives in New York, one in New Jersey, one in Indiana, one in California. And lots of other pieces without the name Standard Oil belong to the S. O. octopus family.

Now an item of financial news tells you that one of the baby octopuses, Mr. Teague's Standard Oil of New Jersey, earned between $30,000,000 and $100,000,000 profit last year.

Big General Motors runs to many billions. A billion, no longer a scarecrow, is merely a unit of value.

Again "Wild Trading Rush Resumed in Wall Street."

Brokers can scarcely handle the business; tickers cannot handle it. Why not add 600 seats to the exchange? That would only make 1,200 active members. Five hundred of the existing 1,100 simply own their seats and don't trade on the exchange.

SELL new seats for $500,000 each, as the demand arises for them at that price. Divide the money, as is only just, pro rata among present owners of the seats.

THEN divide stocks into various classes, fast and slow, and run them on two tickers.

Each office would have two tickers and each little speculator could watch his own tape. There could be an active ticker and a dull ticker. And when an active stock turned dull it could be switched to the other ticker and the public notified.

THE saddest sight reported in regions devastated by the lava flow from Mt. Etna is a father and mother carrying their dead baby to a strange cemetery. Their plot in their own graveyard was covered by lava, 200 feet deep.

THE poor couple grieved because this baby could not be buried there and wondered how those already buried could get out through the lava.

BLAME BOOTLEG FEUD IN DEATH

Akron Man Shot to Death Near Ravenna.

RAVENNA, O., Nov. 15.—Authorities of two counties today were attempting to clear up the murder of Harry Recco, 31, Akron, whose body was found last night with the head badly torn by a shotgun charge, on a lonely road between here and Kent.

There is little doubt, police say, that the killing resulted from a bootleg feud. A search of Recco's home in Akron revealed a 75-gallon still and 45 gallons of mash.

It is also believed that the victim was lured to the spot where he was murdered, driving there in his own car. Mrs. Recco, who late last night was taken to Central police station in Akron with her two children, said her husband had left home early in the evening in his own roadster. She also identified a revolver which was found on the body.

Portage and Summit county authorities and Akron police are working on the case. Several people who live in the vicinity where the body was found heard the fatal shot and the body was discovered shortly afterwards. One man said he saw two automobiles speeding along the road just after he heard the shot.

"NEWS TO ME," SAYS JURIST IN ANSWER TO STREET RUMOR

Reported He Intends to Quit Bench in January.

ELECTED IN 1926

Governor Will Act in Event of Court Vacancy.

Rumors that he intends to resign early in January were denied today by Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley.

"It's news to me," said Hanley. "I've heard nothing about it. There's nothing to it."

According to the reports, the resignation will be tendered after Myers Y. Cooper, governor-elect, succeeds Gov. A. V. Donahay.

Judge Hanley, it is hinted, will become associated with a Toledo law firm.

In the event of Judge Hanley's retirement, appointment to fill the vacancy will be made by the governor. Hanley became municipal judge when the court was established January 1, 1926. His term does not expire until December 31, 1929. He was prosecuting attorney of Columbiana county for two terms before assuming the judgeship.

Y. M. C. A. AIDE QUILTS DRY UNIT

CLEVELAND, Nov. 15.—Declaring that he is not in accord with the political practices of the Anti-Saloon league, Fred W. Ramsey, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. here, today had severed all connection with that organization.

He sent a letter cancelling his membership and his position as a member of the executive committee of the Dry Maintenance league, local branch of the Anti-Saloon league, some time ago, it was revealed today.

"I still believe in prohibition and the eighteenth amendment," Ramsey said, "but I have cancelled my membership in the local arm of the Anti-Saloon league."

COL. ARCHER ROTARY DINNER GUEST NOV. 22

Chicagoan to Speak at Night Meeting in Y. M.

WORLD TRAVELER

"Sanitation and Civilization" Will be His Subject.

Colonel W. A. Archer, special representative of the Plumbing and Heating Industries bureau, Chicago, will be the speaker at a dinner meeting of the Rotary club in the banquet hall of the Y. M. C. A. at 6 p. m., Thursday, November 22.

Col. Archer is a world traveler. He was military adviser to King Feisal of Arabia, following the World war. He spent two and one half years in Europe making a study of sanitary conditions. His subject will be "Sanitation and Civilization."

Colonel Archer will compare the sanitary conditions as existed in Babylon 5,000 years ago with that of the modern cities. He claims that the lack of sanitation breeds crime and that the better the sanitation the less need there is of police.

Of the Russian revolution as an example, Colonel Archer says that the upheaval was caused by the Russian peasants who never had more than three baths in his life—when he was born, when he married and when he died.

C. J. Zange will be chairman of the meeting.

Find No Trace of St. Clairsville Fugitives.

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., Nov. 15.—Jail officials here today declared that the man arrested at Moundsville, W. Va., and thought to have been one of ten prisoners who escaped from the county jail here had not been incarcerated here and therefore had not escaped with the prisoners.

None of the ten has yet been located, although officials have extended their investigation and have voiced their belief that the "crusade" was planned and engineered from the inside with an outside accomplice, who also acted as chauffeur, handling the getaway.

Grilling of prisoners by jail authorities disclosed that sawing had been heard by inmates for three days prior to the jail break.

Mr. and Mrs. Huston and their son, Harold, and Mrs. Faulk, were returning to their home on the Billy Sunday tabernacle meeting, when the accident occurred. Young Huston, driving, failed to notice the street car. He said that Ralph Duncan, the operator, failed to sound the bell as the car approached the intersection.

The street car struck the machine on the rear fender, turning the automobile around. Mrs. Faulk, occupying the rear seat, was cut by broken glass. She was taken to the City hospital where her injuries were dressed after which she went to her home. One wheel, one fender and the body of the automobile were damaged. McElravy Brothers' wrecker took it to the A. A. A. garage in Market street. Patrolman Roth and Captain Conley investigated the accident.

57 MORE LAND AFTER HORROR IN SHIPWRECK

Additional Survivors Charge Negligence in Disaster.

REACH NEW YORK

Picked Up in Two Lifeboats by French Tanker.

By THEODORE B. GOETZ.
NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Snatched back from death, 57 more survivors of the Vestris landed here early today, some to add their tales of nightmare horror, others their charges of wanton negligence to the picture of the sinking of the liner.

A blunt nosed tug pushed up the same bay down which the Vestris proudly bore 328 souls last Saturday, and eight passengers and 40 members of the crew departed. The tug saved 150 others. The remainder will not return.

The survivors came from two lifeboats picked up near the scene of the sinking, 250 miles off the Virginia coast, by the French tanker Myrion. At midnight the tug took the castaways off the tanker at quarantine. Its mission accomplished, the Myrion turned out again for London.

49 of Crew Aboard.

With scarcely a signal the tug came out of the night and eased alongside the quay at 1 o'clock. First the 49 of the crew filed off, grey army blankets across their shoulders. Then the handful of passengers, headed by Herman Hipp, of Chicago, and Campbell Keilman, of Upper Montclair, N. J.

A flash of color—Mrs. Conrad S. Slaughter of Chicago, dressed as you would expect a shipwreck survivor to be, wore white duck sailor trousers, a man's shirt, miles too large, a nondescript sweater and over her shoulders an army blanket.

Mrs. Slaughter was gathered up by her husband, who was rescued from the Vestris and came in yesterday aboard the American Shipper.

Then Harry Ray, boxer of Pittsburgh, came off and William M. Fields of New York, O. C. Patterson of Edmonton, Alberta, Walter Cadogan of New York and S. Cox of Montreal.

Two Wireless Operators Saved.

Two of the three wireless operators of the Vestris were among the 49 members of the crew. They were Charles Verchere and James McDonald. Michael O'Loughlin, the chief operator, (Continued on page 10, column 4)

Martin was arrested in the Diamond yesterday morning. Garbed only in his underwear and trousers, Martin told police that he was being "chased." Murdock was arrested in Dresden avenue by Patrolman McFarland at 7 o'clock last night.

HEAR "MURDER" CHARGE AIRED IN 127 DEATHS ON OCEAN SHIP

Federal Government Expects to Fix Responsibility.

CALL WITNESSES

Last of Survivors are Brought Into New York.

By James L. Kihgallen.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—While the last of the survivors of the Vestris disaster were being brought into New York today, a rigid investigation of charges of "criminal negligence" and "murder" was begun by the federal government with a view of fixing responsibility for the sinking Monday of the liner in the storm-tossed waters 250 miles off the Virginia capes. Latest figures indicate that 127 of the 338 persons aboard the Vestris lost their lives.

Seventy of the 127 unaccounted for were passengers.

United States Attorney Charles H. Tuttle and his assistants lost no time in launching the inquiry even though there is some question of the jurisdiction in any criminal proceedings that may be instituted. The Lampert and Holt steamship Vestris was of British registry and intimation came from the British embassy that an investigation also would be made by the British Board of Trade. There is a possibility, too, that a congressional investigation will follow.

The federal inquiry is seeking to determine, on the basis of charges made by survivors, the following:

Why wasn't the S. O. S. sent out sooner from the Vestris?

Did the company fail, as alleged by survivors, to provide adequate safety equipment?

Was Captain William Carey, the commander who went down with his ill-fated ship, guilty of inefficiency and vacillation in the face of danger?

Were the officers of the Vestris guilty of callous indifference?

Did the crew, as a whole, look out for itself at the expense of the passengers?

Were the lifeboats in bad condition?

Did the Vestris leave its port in New York listing somewhat and not in the best of condition for a sea voyage?

Vestris Operators Silent.

United States Attorney Tuttle designated his assistant to round up witnesses today "to fix the responsibility and perpetuate facts." It was not long after the investigation was started that one of Tuttle's assistants, Edward Silver, declared that murder charges would be in order if some of the stories related by survivors concerning the conduct of the crew were substantiated.

Heavy prison sentences could be given, under the federal law, to any convicted of negligent operation of passenger steamships, Silver said.

Officials of Sanderson and company, local representatives of the Lampert and Holt line, operators of the Vestris, were reluctant to make any comment upon the bitter charges made by the survivors.

Deny Ship Was Listing.

"What about these charges?" reporters asked David Cook, vice president.

"The officers will answer them at the inquiry this afternoon," he replied. Cook said the Vestris was "in perfect condition" (Continued on page 10, column 3)

17 LIFESAVERS DIE IN SEA

Plunged Into English Channel on Rescue Mission.

RYE, England, Nov. 15.—While their horrified families watched from the shore, 17 members of the Rye guard station were plunged from a lifeboat into the turbulent English channel today when they started to the aid of the crew of the stranded Latvian steamship Alice. Ten bodies were washed ashore and the other seven were given up as lost.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—Seventeen members of the Rye life guard station are believed to have been drowned today in going to the rescue of the stranded Latvian steamship Alice. A huge lifeboat capsized, plunging the 17 occupants into the water.

OVER 73 YEARS OF SUCCESS

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

If you have a thumping in your head, dizzy spells, shortness of breath, lack of strength and endurance and are extremely nervous, you have symptoms of high blood pressure—a serious ailment that should have immediate attention.

High blood pressure causes much physical discomfort and if permitted to continue, is extremely dangerous. It should be checked at the earliest possible moment.

Thanks to a physician's prescription, high blood pressure may be reduced quickly and easily. Simply go to your nearest drug store and get a bottle of Norma. Norma is a palliative in cases of high blood pressure. A few days' use should show a marked improvement in your condition. The thumping and pounding in your head should disappear and as the blood pressure is reduced the dizzy spells should become less and less frequent and you should find you are much stronger, have more endurance with a real joy in living.

Norma is a scientific formula, is not a laxative, is easy and pleasant to take and often only a few days' use is very helpful.

Rheumatics Poisoned!

According to doctors, and they ought to know, it's poisons in the blood settling around the joints and in the muscles that causes the terrible rheumatic pains and stiffness. So don't be surprised when salves and liniments and the ordinary internal medicines fail to give more than temporary relief. You've got to deal with the poisons in the blood—you've got to drive them out of the system if you ever expect to get speedy and lasting relief.

Just try the remedy doctors have prescribed for years, known as Rheuma, which is especially compounded to clean the poisons out of the blood—then see how quickly the pain goes. There is no other preparation that forces Rheumatism, Scleritis and Gout to yield so completely as Rheuma and the very first bottle must convince you that it will end your rheumatic suffering or your money will be returned. Mathews Med. Store, and every good druggist sell Rheuma with this guarantee.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."
But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.
Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store. Larkins, The Drug Man.

Ships of Health

With East Liverpool's goal of 1,500 memberships in the annual Red Cross roll call, which began today, expected to be attained when booths in the downtown postoffice and banks close Saturday night, steps will be taken next week to complete plans for the Christmas seal campaign.

According to Dr. Robert H. Bishop, president of the Ohio Public Health association, which, in cooperation with local agencies, sponsors the annual drive for funds to combat the spread of tuberculosis, 60,000,000 seals are to be sold in the Buckeye state. And East Liverpool, in keeping with past records, will be assigned a quota of 250,000, or a per capita of 10.

The City Federation of Women's Clubs will be in charge of the voyage of the ships of health, as the Christmas seals, will be known this year. The ship of the health missive is a Roman galley, shown riding a white-capped wave. At the horizon line the green of the sea meets the blue of the sky, and at the top of the seal are the words, "Christmas Greetings, 1928." On the mainsail appears the red, double-barred cross, the international emblem of the fight against the white plague.

The ships of health will be launched between Thanksgiving day and the day before Christmas in the search for harbors on East Liverpool's Yuletide letters and packages. And as the state association points out, the "cargo" will be full of boundless wealth, of hope and joy, and human health.

Buy Christmas seals and fight tuberculosis.

Schools Major Enterprise

Speaking of big business usually calls to mind the steel, oil, automobile, the motion picture or other similar industry. In these America can justly take great pride; but there is another infinitely greater, one which shows a tremendous annual increase of division plants, the number of operatives employed and a finished product for which there is no slump in the market, an industry which has never known a slack season, never failed to declare a fat dividend.

What other industry than the schools can boast a capitalization beyond estimate, can claim 28,000,000 workers, 23,000,000 "apprentices" in elementary workshops, 4,000,000 "journeymen" in secondary production, and 700,000 "master mechanics" ready to carry out? What industry can count 256,104 separate plants offered by more than a million executives, a new and perpetual Grand Army of the Republic?

In Ohio there is no greater industry. One and a quarter million workers daily crowd the doors of the character factories conducted by 40,000 teachers. The state spends annually $150,000,000 in keeping them working. In East Liverpool, too, the schools are a major enterprise. None other meets such a ready response from the people.

In looking for the causes of national progress credit is given to our abundant natural resources. That they are an important factor there can be no question, but they have always been here, and the Indians could never have developed them. The little red school house and its modern successor have done the trick and will continue to insure our further conquests.

J. L. Clifton, director of schools for Ohio, in his letter to the teachers of the state, summed the whole matter up well. Said he, "No other public enterprise of the commonwealth involves so many persons or the outlay of such a sum; no matter is so far reaching in its influence upon the future of the people within our borders. Nothing that can happen during the year can be of such consequence to the state as the proper training and guidance of this youthful host."

Ocean Liner And Mascot

For an ocean liner to sail without its mascot would be impossible. The men who go down to the sea in ships will declare there is no superstition, but nonetheless they will act as childish over some things as an actor does when he raves against whistling backstage. Additional proof is at hand.

The Cunarder Scythia was delayed ten minutes over sailing time the other day when the ship mascot, Felix, a black cat, was missing. The captain instituted personal search, but couldn't locate Felix. Then the whistle was blown, and it was believed Felix would come aboard, as he always had in the past. But for once the cat remained A. W. O. L.

Hold everything was the captain's orders, and seamen were hastily sent down the gangplank to hunt for the cat, which apparently had attempted to jump ship. Frantically the men searched, and found Felix crouched behind a packing box. The cat was swung aboard in a mail sack, and the liner proceeded on its way.

That ship would not have been held one minute over the departure time for a passenger who was late. But to find the ship's mascot was something else again. The consequences might have overtaken the vessel had the captain sailed without his mascot. And yet they say this is not an age of superstition.

Good Will Gestures

State departments may use their best efforts to find new means to keep the peace of the world. Diplomats may strive to their utmost to create a spirit of friendship; but in their ultimate effect the efforts of these will be eclipsed by such gestures as the recent sending of gifts of dolls to the children of Japan and friendship bags to the children of Mexico by the children of the United States.

As an illustration of the way such things work out it is interesting to note that, as result of these presents to Mexico, a course in international friendship has already become a part of the work of the Mexican primary schools. Moises Saenz, acting minister of education, said in this connection, "We are studying about the United States. Its history, its accomplishments, its people, and all in a friendly way. This is a new thing, and strange, but we are happy in doing it."

Who can estimate the final results of such a spirit? If wars ever cease to be, it will be because the peoples of the world have come to know each other intimately.

HASKIN DAILY LETTER

By Frederick J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 15.—Mount Vernon, New York, public schools are anticipating a school building survey to be conducted in January by the United States Bureau of Education. The invitation extended to the city schools division of the bureau to make such a survey means that the board of education of that city realizes a growing need for better school buildings and more of them.

The government will send a specialist to Mount Vernon. The survey will be the twenty-third of the kind to be made by the bureau of education within the last six years. In every instance the powers of the bureau are advisory, not compulsory, for the task of the official is to collect and distribute information and the local board is at liberty to accept or reject the government's recommendations.

In Portland, Oregon, the bureau made one of its outstanding school surveys. In that western city were found a progressive school board and a public anxious to give its children the best of schooling. The result was the adoption of all government plans, successful bond issues for an extensive building program and the consequent erection of modern buildings.

Conditions will be studied for the Mount Vernon survey in about the same way that the Portland case was studied. Before formulating a program the present school population is learned and it is determined how much the population increased during ten years. Then arises the question about where the congestion is greatest and in what direction the tide of population is moving. The next step is to decide what kind of buildings should be put up in what parts of the city in order to provide for growth as well as for present enrollment.

Another problem deals with the playground space needed. For an elementary school with 1200 pupils it is estimated that five acres are needed, while in the average high school the need is for from ten to twenty acres. Still another question is what kind of activities should be provided in the buildings and grounds. After solving these general problems, consideration is given to the funds available for building purposes in the present and immediate future and it is decided which items in the program should be taken up at first and which can be left for a future appropriation.

Not only in Portland was extensive research made into the public school system, but also in 21 other cities during the last few years. Among them were Wilmington, Delaware, schools. There the school board wished a survey made with a view to selecting schools to reorganize on the platoon plan. The result was adoption of the survey report and the reorganization of five schools.

The platoon system, or work-study-play plan, has been inaugurated during recent years in 38 states. The first schools of this kind were started in Bluffton, Indiana, in 1902 and in Gary, Indiana, in 1907. By 1914, nine cities had platoon schools; by 1921, 39 cities had schools of this type, and by 1928 the number had increased to a total of more than 850 schools in 148 cities, including Mount Vernon and Portland.

The platoon system is called the work-study-play system because all activities of the school are in use every hour of the day. Classrooms, auditoriums, gymnasium, shops, and laboratories are in constant use. The school is divided into two parts, and while half the student body is in classrooms, the other half is engaged in special activities.

In Gary, Indiana, was one of the first platoons method schools. It is the Froebel school of that city which will serve as the model school plant in part of the bureau's exhibit at the International Exposition to open in Seville, Spain, March 15, and continue six months. This school is the platoon type with the first five grades.

The Spanish government has invited Spanish-speaking nations to take part in the exposition. The United States is the only non-Spanish speaking country invited to participate.

Although the duties of the bureau have multiplied since its organization in 1867, it still has its fundamental purpose, to collect and diffuse such information relative to schools as will aid in the establishment and maintenance of efficient school systems and to promote the cause of education throughout the country. A great part of the bureau's time now is spent in making surveys, compiling statistics, disseminating information, and making plans for the Spanish exposition.

Q. How old is the McNab Cypress Tree supposed to be? E. H.

A. This tree, taken from an asphalt pit in California is thought to be more than 40,000 years old. The wood was preserved by the asphalt which was thickly encrusted over it.

Q. What is the scalp lock? D. McN.

A. It was the small hair braid which hung from the back of the head, as distinguished from the larger size braids. In scalping, the portion taken was usually a small circular patch of skin at the root of the scalp lock just back of the crown of the head.

Q. Is there any difference in the weight of hot and cold water? N. N. C.

A. Hot water is lighter than cold water. At a temperature of 32 degrees F. water weighs 62.4 pounds per cubic foot; at 212 degrees F. (boiling points), it weighs 59.76 pounds per cubic foot.

Q. How did it happen that the American people built a library in Louvain? V. J. R.

A. The restoration of the University of Louvain was brought about by the various nations of the Allies. To the United States fell the privilege of rebuilding the library. The University of Louvain was founded more than two centuries before Harvard. At the time of its destruction the library contained but a quarter of a million volumes, but these works had been accumulating for five centuries. The site of the present library is the finest of all Louvain, occupying one entire side of the Place du Peuple. The architect was Whitney Warren, who was chosen by an international committee. The cornerstone was laid by Nicholas Murray Butler.

Pathetic Figures—

Other Editors Say

Where Do They Sneeze?

Approximately one-tenth of the country's population uses an average of four pounds each of snuff annually and addition to the stuff is slowly increasing, we are told by the department of commerce in a bulletin prepared by James M. Morrow, a specialist in the marketing of tobacco. We may be unobservant, but, frankly, we haven't seen any one take a pinch of snuff for to these many years. However, figures don't lie, and when Mr. Morrow says the production of snuff in this country has increased from 1,000,000 pounds to 41,000,000 annually within the past 50 years, it is apparent that considerable sneezing is being done somewhere. Very little snuff is exported, we are told.

At any rate, snuff taking is certainly a lost art, as it was practiced in polite society a century ago. Then, it required 12 distinct operations and had all the solemnity of a rite. Not to offend the book of etiquette, the taker took the box in his right hand and passed it to his left with an elaborate gesture. He then rapped the box gently, opened it and passed it to present company.

When the box returned, the owner tapped its sides to gather the snuff in a neat heap and took a pinch between the thumb and middle finger of his right hand. He retained it a moment, waving his hand gently, then lifted it to his nose, sniffed with each nostril and, if he were a real gentleman and aristocrat, sneezed without making a grimace, no small feat in itself. We don't know where the 41,000,000 pounds of snuff go, these days, but it is fairly certain that the users make little ceremony of the sniffing operation.—Columbus Dispatch.

Once Overs

By J. J. Mundy.

The Fruits of Revenge.
 Did you ever do a mean thing in your life that you did not regret for a long time afterward?

Sometimes you felt justified, perhaps.

But when you could think of it calmly you were ashamed of yourself.

And somehow the thoughts of the despicable things you have done have a way of coming back to you at the most unexpected times.

You wish you could free yourself from them.

And yet they stick—and they will continue to stick, you will find.

In most instances you wanted to repay a wrong, did you not?

In each and every case you wanted to return, in greater severity, what you had received. Isn't that true?

Right now you may be contemplating a "get even" job against some person for an alleged or imaginary wrong.

Even if you hurt the one toward whom you feel antagonistic would you gain anything by it?

No. The early sweetness some lay at the door of revenge does not outweigh the regrets that come after.

And there is always a period in life when there are such regrets.

YOUR HEALTH

An Ounce of Prevention Is Worth A Pound of Cure.

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland.

A Chicago reader says she will appreciate an article on intestinal tuberculosis. She thinks that many besides herself would be grateful for information on this subject.

Perhaps the most cheering thing in the history of medicine is what has been accomplished in tuberculosis. This disease is becoming less and less prevalent. By teaching the public how to live, the powers of resistance of the average individual have been increased tremendously. The result is that tubercular infections are less common by a good deal than they were only a few years ago.

Tuberculosis may attack any one of the organs, or any part of the body. The intestines are no exception. It is rather interesting to recall that many cases of tubercular infection must take place through the digestive tract. Infected milk is taken into the stomach and from the digestive organs the tubercular infection takes place.

It is rare, however, for the disease to spend its force in the intestines. Yet, of course, the lining membrane may become locally involved and produce a multitude of local symptoms.

When there is a tubercular infection of the intestinal tract, diarrhea is the most common symptom. This makes the case difficult to handle because the feeding of the patient with tubercular infection is an important part of the treatment. In this disease it is necessary to build up the health and the resistance of the body. If the digestive organs are out of order, the forced feeding which we depend upon Again?

A day that might have meant so much—and she has to be excused. What a pity there's a woman left who does not know of Midol! One or two tablets in time, and not a twinge of pain throughout the menstrual process. Or an end to such suffering at any time, five to seven minutes after Midol is taken. Yet this merciful medicine is non-narcotic. Its wonderful results are due to the fact it acts directly on the organs affected; so it's utterly harmless, and it is only common sense to use it. Midol comes in a clever little case of aluminum you can slip in the smallest purse. And the cost of this comfort is fifty cents.*

*Midol's comfort is not confined to any certain days or age. It relieves at any time of life. Its case is felt immediately in cases of nervous headache, backache, cramping, hot flashes and all febrile pain peculiar to women

SUNDAY CITES NEED FOR ENTHUSIASM IN RELIGION

Baptists, members of the Christian church and those of the Salvation Army with the accompanying Boy and Girl Scouts and led by the Army band attended the night service at the tabernacle and sat in assigned seats in the auditorium. For them Homer Rodeheaver sang "Since Jesus Came Into My Heart" and "In the Garden". In the latter of these he was aided by Mrs. Louise Brookman Taylor, of Wellsville. He had previously sung "An Old Fashioned Meeting".

Rodeheaver, true to his promise that "some new and engaging departures will be features of all the preliminary services of the revival" thrilled his hearers by singing, in turn the chorus of the hymn, "Brighten the Corner Where You Are" in Hawaiian, Japanese, Korean and Chinese languages. He called Albert Peterson party advance man to the platform, and had him sing the same in the Swedish tongue. He concluded the unique departure by calling Robert Matthews, the pianist and Rev. R. M. Davis, of Chester, W. Va., to form a quartet. The four sang the words together in four different tongues. Mr. Matthews doing so in French and Rev. Mr. Davis in English. Miss Florence Kinney accompanied them. Matthews accompanied Rodeheaver in his other songs.

In attendance also and eliciting great applause from others in the tabernacle was a delegation of several hundred persons from Beaver, Pa. They moved Mr. Sunday to recall his visits to Pennsylvania and Ohio. "This section of the country despite my western birth seems like home to me," he said. "I do and always shall recall my pleasant stays in the fine cities of these two states as well as Wheeling, W. Va."

Services At Hall Home. Several musical selections were given by the Salvation Army band in the preliminary service. Ensign J. Verdonill and Major Joseph Hughes assisted with guitar and accordion.

Mr. Sunday also took occasion to say that though he had spoken in all of the states in the union he had not held revival campaigns in four: Nevada, Arizona, New Mexico and Montana. "I want to go into all of them eventually so I can say I have preached in every state of the union before I go to heaven," he said.

Methodists of the co-operating revival area will be out in force at tonight's service. They will be given reserved seats.

More than 150 persons attended the morning district meeting at the home of Mrs. Robert Hall, Park boulevard, yesterday. In addition to Mr. Sunday's presence it was featured by Homer Rodeheaver and Albert Peterson singing "When the Gates Swing Outward Never" and "Jesus" by the former.

This service was under the direction of Miss Florence Kinney as will be the one scheduled for next Wednesday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crook, of Fifth street.

Old Foy's Service Friday. Special efforts, it was announced, are being made to have all of the old folks possible at the service Friday afternoon when Mr. Sunday's subject will be "Mothers." Automobiles are to be provided those needing them for transportation. The meeting for boys and girls on Saturday afternoon will be in the form of an illustrated lecture by Mr. Sunday. Parents are nightly being urged to have their children present on this occasion.

"Notes for the Skeptic to Crack," the theme of Mr. Sunday's Saturday night sermon, promises to provide food for thought.

The first men's and women's meetings are to be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mr. Sunday has not announced his subject for men as yet. Miss Florence Kinney will address the women in the First Presbyterian church.

Preceding the evening service, Robert Matthews and Paul Beckwith of the evangelistic party were guests of the Lions' club at its weekly dinner in the Travelers' hotel. There the discovery was made that Albert Peterson, advance man, is a member of the Lions' club in Ottumwa, Ia., while Matthews holds honorary membership in the Memphis, Tenn., club and Mrs. Sunday in the club of the organization in Charlotte, N. C.

Mrs. Sunday accordingly is to be a guest of the club upon her return to East Liverpool, while Matthews and Beckwith will aid in the music of the club during the meetings held during the remainder of the campaign. The club also agreed to attend the revival in a body at an early date.

Afternoon Services. Rodeheaver sang, accompanied by Matthews, "Carry Thy Burden to Jesus," a new song before the afternoon sermon.

The invocations of the day were made by Rev. Mr. Britton, of the Chester, W. Va., Christian church in the afternoon and by the Rev. Mr. Latta, pastor of the United Presbyterian church of Wellsville. The business announcements in the evening were made by the Rev. R. M. Davis, pastor of the United Presbyterian church of Chester, W. Va.

Following the afternoon service Mr. Sunday, accompanied by Matthews, visited George Rowe, of Washington street. The latter, a "shut-in" for more than 20 years, had been visited by Mr. Sunday when he was in 1912. "It is a benediction" to see you again, said Mr. Sunday.

Previously Rodeheaver had called on Mr. Rowe.

Rowe has the unique record, he reports, of having 270 persons accept Christianity from those during the passing of the years of his confinement. He has had on his prayer list. The Rev. Dr. Frank Fowler, of Columbus, former pastor of the First Methodist church here, was a visitor at the revival last night. He is spending a few days here.

Wednesday Night Sermon. The Lord divides the world into but two classes: the saved and the lost, cryptically declared Mr. Sunday last night as he emphasized the duty of those claiming to be in the former category to seek and annex the latter to their own viewpoint by a transformation that includes the new birth and a constantly cumulative growth in grace by means of faith.

He outlined the three divisions of folks that affected Jesus the final night of His life upon earth before the crucifixion. He was speaking to His Father in heaven, three of the disciples were near Him, eight farther away and the mob on the outside of the garden. There was a difference in position, size and duty, he said, with a consequent difference of revelation to all of them.

He likened the sleeping of those near to Him to the apathy of the churches who have lost their vision of that which they owe God in loyalty. "If you are not true to your government you are a traitor," he argued, "and if you break the law you become a crook. How much more does a purported follower of God grieve Him when he tries to do the things of the world and those of the righteous at the same time. All sin is grievous to God, but those of Christians I hold in His sight to be the more heinous."

Deplores "Dry Rot" in Churches.

He stressed the need for enthusiasm in religion just as people put it into world allurements. "The Methodists have forgotten the amenities that made them famous and the Presbyterians appear to have absorbed them. We need the fire, spirit and enthusiasm of other days to combat the growing forces of evil in these hectic days of sin. It is harder now to land a child in the kingdom of the Master than it was to net a grown man a decade ago. You want to hit the devil with a cradle and not with the crutch to build up the future church therefore the spiritual welfare of children should not in the slightest degree be diminished."

He deplored the "dry-rot" in the churches of the present day. I should say that half of the professing Christians are not born again. They simply attend church and catch not its vision and the need to pray and become personal workers for lost souls. Prevailing prayer gets what it goes for. Do you see much of that type?

He gave concrete illustrations of persons becoming soul winners once they surrendered all to the will of God.

The story of his early life and the vicissitudes attending his rearing following the failure of his father to return from the Civil war and their vain efforts to find his body.

He declared it to be the duty of the church to cry out against the present wicked and adulterous generation. But he averred that little could be done by churchmen unless they, saturated in the word of God, were armed by and animated by His Holy Spirit. "We are facing a spiritual and a moral eclipse," he said. "We all need a spiritual bath."

Wednesday Afternoon Sermon.

In the afternoon he averred that God was tired of empty professors of Christianity, who themselves know nothing of the experience of religion in their souls. The first recorded words of Jesus were "Wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business?" he said.

He told of being with some hall players in Hot Springs, Ark. They looked for a spring when they met a colored boy who guided them to the spot. "How did you know where it was?" he said he asked the boy. "I have been there," was his reply. "Christians knowing the experience of having been with Christ know how to lead others to Him. None other can. The Holy Spirit works through clean people. But truth is some times honored in bad people."

"About two-thirds of church people never pray. How can they thus be effective. I never preach a sermon which has not been soaked in prayer and always after I preach I thank God for having had the privilege of preaching it."

He said there were five classes of persons in every community: those who can not attend church by reason of the kind of work they do; those who can and never do; those who can, do, but are not moved by what they hear; those who can, do, but are convicted and not converted and those who can, do, are convicted and converted.

People who can be sought by personal workers can be found everywhere except in the cemetery, he said.

Hits Modernistic Teachings.

He told how a woman, seeking a convert, spoke to a clerk in a London store. He became a Christian and the organizer of the Y. M. C. A., the first man ever to be knighted for Christian service.

Obedience to God's truth and subsequent blessings go arm and arm, he said.

He noted the increase in the Ohio penitentiary from about 2,000 to 9,000 inmates as due to the fruitage of the low type of theatrical performances, bad literature, no Bible teaching in schools and modernistic teachings from pulpits. "What else can you expect but an increase of crime from the seed thus sown?" he asked.

That personal workers should be natural in their approach of people was emphasized. He suggested that even ministers would do better work by not speaking differently in public than that which they affect ordinarily.

How a 17-year-old lad carried over a board to the Methodist Book concern adjoining it 17 persons in the ill-fated, fire in Chicago a few years ago was narrated by him. The lad, in halting flames, succumbed. His final words were: "I have had my chance and done my best." "Have you, he asked in conclusion, "done your best in seeking souls?" He that winneth souls is wise."

Miss Florence Kinney in her Bible class averred that dispensations indicated in the Bible were "periods of time during which God tested man to find if he would obey his commands."

Eternity, she pointed out, existed before man in the world and it is to eternity that he is now headed.

Failure has so far attended all of the dispensations which were begun by a command from God, she said.

She designated the dispensations with the initial command thereto and the subsequent scriptural affirmation of failure as follows: Innocence, the command emanating from Gen. 2:17 and the failure noted Gen. 3:1; Conscience, 4:17 and Gen. 6:5-12; Human Authority, Gen. 9:14 and Gen. 11:1-4; Promise, Gen. 12:23 and Gen. 26:24 and Gen. 47:1; Law Ex. 19:5-8 and 2 Kings 17:7; Grace Mark 16:15—

the gospel to every creature" "This dispensation is now existing and will pave the way for the Kingdom the second coming of which by many authorities seems imminent" She pointed out the fact that great intervals in the Bible were about 2000 years apart. From Adam to Abraham 2000 years; from Abraham to Christ 2000 years and from Christ to now is almost 2000 years. "We should be glad that we are living in the dispensation of grace," she said, "for it may well be that some of us may live to be bodily present at the second coming of the Christ to found the glorious reign of His kingdom."

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth. Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

GRAND JURORS VOTE 10 BILLS

Four Cases Ignored at New Cumberland Session.

Hancock county grand jury, which convened Monday, reported yesterday returning ten true bills and ignoring four cases.

Among those indicted on felony charges were Walter and Stanley Wazensky, Joseph Zuber, Joseph Uko-vich and William Jesky, members of the alleged "Flathead gang," charged with participating in a series of robberies in the Weirton district.

Michael Crane was exonerated in the death of Joseph Grawoski whom he shot and killed in mistake for a robber at his home in Weirton on October 25.

Three other indictments were returned on prohibition law charges.

STOMACH UPSET

Get at the real cause. That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with oliveoil. Know them by their olivecolor. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain. All Druggists.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 15c, 30c, 60c.

Afraid of Gall Stones

Note These Symptoms

Dizziness, nausea, biliousness, headaches, gas in stomach and bowels, fullness and pain in right side, constipation and diarrhea—these are the danger signs of gall bladder trouble and gall stones.

Here's a simple home treatment that gets at that condition at once and corrects it. Klax-Ko it is called. It thins out the bile, clears congested bile ducts, stimulates a lazy liver and frees the gall bladder of thick congested bile and the gall formations which are the cause of gall stones.

Klax-Ko brings about a free, normal flow of healthful bile thus cleansing the intestines of all poisons. Digestion is put in order and the system is purified, for pure bile is nature's intestinal cleanser.

Do not endanger your health. Try Klax-Ko. Thousands have proved it. Relief in 3 to 5 days and complete success in 30 days is often the case. Ask for Klax-Ko today at Carnahan Drug Co. or any other good druggist.

COWARDICE CHARGED IN LINER VESTRIS DISASTER

LIFE-SAVING EQUIPMENT HIT BY SURVIVORS

Bungling of Captain Hinted in Loss of 115 Lives.
INQUIRY BEGINS
Shipwreck Termed "Plain Murder" by Some Passengers.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—An official inquiry was to begin here this afternoon into charges made by survivors of the sunken Lamport and Holt liner Vestris that the loss of 115 lives in the great sea disaster was due to the bungling of the captain, faulty life-saving equipment, and cowardice and

115 ARE LOST, CHECKUP SHOWS

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—A total of 115 persons perished with the sinking of the Lamport and Holt liner Vestris, a recapitulation showed today.
Of the 328 souls aboard, 197 were rescued, and 131 were missing, all of whom are believed lost.
Financial loss from the disaster was estimated at $3,000,000. The vessel was valued at $2,000,000 while the general cargo was valued at $1,000,000.

inefficiency on the part of the crew. Some of the survivors charged that the disaster was "plain murder."
The inquiry was to start at 2 o'clock this afternoon before United States Commissioner Francis A. O'Neill, and the machinery of the law will function under the direction of United States Attorney Charles H. Tuttle. Indications are that the probe may drag on for weeks, for it was announced that each of the survivors would be called to tell his story before the tribunal of investigation.
British Plans Investigation.
It is also expected that an inquiry by the British board of trade and that a congressional investigation will get under way in December.

The investigators today began the task of rounding up witnesses. Subpoenas were to be served on all the survivors, including the officers of the Vestris who were rescued. Subpoenas were served yesterday on officials of the Lamport and Holt line, owners of the ill-fated Vestris, and officials of the Federal steamboat inspection service, which gave the Vestris a clean bill of health before she left New York last Saturday on her fatal voyage.

It was stated at the customs office the hull of the vessel had been examined on Nov. 7 by Inspector E. Keane and the boilers and machinery by F. L. Dennis and found fit. The inspectors also reported the Vestris carried 11 wooden lifeboats with a carrying capacity of 658 souls with a motor capable of 36. There were 691 adult life preservers aboard and 70 for children. Additional life-saving apparatus was listed as 18 life buoys and nine luminous flares.

Ask Reason for S. O. S. Delay.
The government wants to know why Captain William J. Carey, who lived up to the ancient tradition of the sea by going down with his ship, did not save those 115 passengers and seamen who perished by calling for aid on Sunday night when the ship was heeling over, and why he waited until the eleventh hour before launching the lifeboats.
Tuttle will investigate grave charges brought against the master who went down with his ship without so much as donning a life belt, although these were plentifully available to him. He will attempt to ascertain why lifeboats were unseaworthy, why they were not equipped with food and water; why his crew untrained in rescue work; why his men forgot their seamen's oath and saved themselves at the expense of their charges.
He will try to ascertain why the grim and courageous master recalled an S. O. S. sent out on Sunday when the craft was in the gravest danger.

LIQUOR WINNER IN NEW ZEALAND

LONDON, Nov. 15.—Incomplete returns from the nation-wide prohibition referendum in New Zealand indicate a victory for the "wets," according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from New Zealand today. The incomplete result:
For liquor continuance—388,000.
For prohibition—280,000.
For state control—64,000.

TRAINS KILL TWO AT STEUBENVILLE

STEUBENVILLE, O., Nov. 15.—Two persons were killed in this district by trains today. Joseph Kubalek, Lansing, O., was instantly killed when struck by a Cleveland Pittsburgh train at Brilliant, and George Illinois was killed when hit by a train at Jewett, a suburb.

Allots $10,000 for River Survey.
HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Nov. 15.—The chief engineer of the U. S. army has allotted $10,000 to the Huntington district for a survey of the Kanawha river from Lock No. 5 to the stream's mouth, according to advices received here today.

OHIOAN HELD IN MURDER OF FARM LABORER

Luther Shumaker, 60, Shot and Slashed.
BODY ON PORCH
Prisoner Tells Police He Acted in Self Defense.

EATON, O., Nov. 15.—Frank McMahon, a farmer, living in a remote, sparsely settled section near Campbelltown in Erie county, was in jail here today charged with the murder of Luther Shumaker, 60, a farm laborer, whose body, riddled with shotgun pellets, slashed with a butcher knife and with a 32 revolver bullet in his head, was found on the back porch of the McMahon home last night.

Authorities learned of the tragedy when a neighbor of the accused man notified the mthad McMahon rushed to his door last night and asked him to "telephone the coroner to come and remove a body from my back porch."
McMahon claimed self defense when questioned by authorities. He did not account for the fact that, although a quarrel had evidently taken place in the house, Shumaker's body was found on the porch, and also failed to give satisfactory explanation for the shotgun and revolver wounds and the numerous slashes on the body, police said. McMahon sustained a deep cut on the neck.

According to McMahon, a quarrel ensued over money which Shumaker claimed McMahon owed him. Police who searched the house found it in wild disorder, chairs overturned and household effects strewn about evidence, they say, of a desperate struggle preceding the killing.
Very little is known of Shumaker and police are endeavoring to obtain some trace of relatives.

GOV. AL SMITH VISITS SAVANNAH

SAVANNAH, Ga., Nov. 15.—Arriving in Georgia today, Gov. Alfred E. Smith, of New York, expected to spend most of the day on the links of the Savannah Golf club.
The governor's party arrived early today on the private car of his life-time friend, William F. Kenny, New York contractor.
A foursome was being arranged here for the governor even before he awoke.

The governor will spend all of today in Savannah, according to the present itinerary of his vacation. Tomorrow, he leaves for Biloxi, Miss., to stay several weeks.

GUARD OFFICER FACES PRISON

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 15.—Convicted of forgery and making false claims against the government, Capt. Charles Mack, Norwalk, today faced sentence of two years in Atlanta federal prison. Federal Judge Kilbitt imposed sentence.
Mack, former commanding officer of Company G, 145th Infantry, O. N. G., was placed on trial charged with paying irregularities. He and a score of other National Guard officers in Ohio were indicted for the irregularities.

BOXER VICTOR IN BATTLE FOR LIFE AT SEA

Harry Fay Wins Fight for High Stakes.
TELLS HIS STORY
Grins Broadly as Rescue Ship Lands Him.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Victor in a battle for higher stakes than the squared circle ever held, Harry Fay, Pittsburgh boxer, landed here today with the Vestris passengers rescued by the Myram.

It was all "just another experience" to Fay, who grinned broadly and waved his hat while photographers' flashlights flared.

"I feel fine now that the experience is over," said Fay as he stepped onto a Brooklyn dock early this morning from the tug which had brought him and the others from the French tanker.

"And it was just another experience, or a series of them."

"From the time we were lowered away from the sinking ship until we were picked up three hours later by the tanker, everything is a jumble in my mind."

"All I know is that I was saved. How I don't think I will ever know."

"The lifeboat" was in tipped up on end as it was being lowered and spilled me and more than a score of others into the sea.

"As I fell I jumped into another lifeboat but this one was leaking so badly that it was being abandoned. I jumped to a third boat. I just jumped into three boats, one after another, and was saved. I don't ever remember whether I was in the water in between."

OHIOAN'S POOR AIM KILLS WIFE

STEUBENVILLE, O., Nov. 15.—Pleading "it wasn't his fault," Mrs. Olga Dennis, 55, struck by a bullet from a revolver fired by her husband early this morning died in a hospital here this afternoon. Dennis intended the shot for a burglar but his aim was wild and the bullet struck his wife and she fell to the floor.

The couple lived in two rooms to the rear of their small confectionery store here. When Mrs. Dennis heard the burglar entering, she screamed, awakening her husband. Dennis grabbed his pistol from underneath the pillow and fired.

Dennis was arrested on a suspicious person charge but was released on his own recognizance.

No trace was found of the burglar.

57 Survivors Land

was still at his key trying to make the weakening signals heard when the Vestris heeled over and went down. Dr. William Sears, the ship's surgeon, and Leslie Watson, second officer, were also among those rescued by the Myram.

The tales of the survivors brought in yesterday by the American Shipper which carried 125 and the Berlin which had 23 of the rescued, have started at least two investigations. The passengers told of incidents unbelievably at variance with the traditions of the sea—of cowardice among the seamen. They charged negligence, inexperience improper training and stupidity on the part of William J. Carey, the master, and his officers.

U. S. District Attorney Tuttle promises an investigation here. One is to be conducted in London by the British Board of Trade and a third by the U. S. Senate is talked of. Outraged relatives and friends of the dead who have heard survivors explain those deaths demand that blame be fixed.

Radio S O S Delayed.
Everywhere among the rescued passengers it was the same story. How the radio S O S had been delayed, how the passengers forced the Captain to call for help, how an S O S when the fate of the ship was apparent ten hours before she sank would have saved all aboard, how slow-fingered sailors stupidly nailed a piece of tin over a gaping hole in a lifeboat, how a boom negligently insecure crashed down onto a lifeboat filled with 20 babies and children, how half-filled lifeboats rowed quickly away from struggling, pleading passengers leaving them to drown.

One of the passengers told a story which placed blame for some of the confusion in another quarter. It was Cadogan, a New York Negro, who told of being in one of the first three lifeboats to be launched. When the boat was filled with 30 persons, mostly women, Cadogan said they called to Captain Carey to lower them.

When the captain ignored them, Cadogan said he whipped out a razor and slashed the rope which held the lifeboat at the bow, thinking to get it into the water. Like peas from a pod the passengers were dumped into the sea. Many of them were never seen again.

In this lifeboat was Mrs. Slaughter with her husband. They were separated and neither knew until yesterday that the other had been saved.

COL. R. W. STEWART LOSES ROUND

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Col. Robert W. Stewart, Standard Oil magnate, lost a round today in his trial for perjury when Justice Jennings Bailey permitted District Attorney Leo Rover to lay before the jury all of Stewart's testimony before the senate oil committee last April.

Defense counsel had objected vigorously.

The old man told the senate committee in February he had "never personally received" a single bond from the Continental Trading company, nor "made a single dollar."

Subsequently, it developed he had received $759,500 in bonds and in April Stewart reappeared before the committee with an explanation of the transaction. Upon this alleged diversion in testimony the perjury indictment was based.

"BLACK GANG" FORESAW COFFIN LINER'S DOOM

Anonymous Slaves Say Coal Porthole Was Partially Open.

OCEAN POURS IN

Urged Sending of S O S Calls All Day Sunday.

BY DAVID P. SENTNER.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The "Black Gang" of the coffin ship Vestris—those anonymous slaves who sweat in the bowels of a vessel—knew that the steamer was doomed.

Twenty-three coal-heavers of the Vestris who arrived today among the rescued aboard the French tanker Myram declared that the Vestris left Hoboken with a coal port partially open about four feet above the water line.

Like the trickle through a Holland dyke which developed into a flood, it was through this incompletely closed coal that a storm-tossed ocean poured, causing one of the great sea disasters of modern times.

Water Mounts in Engine Room.

The water mounted steadily in the engine room all day Sunday, according to members of the "black gang" and when it was almost to their necks, they asked that an S. O. S. be sent out.

"All day Sunday we urged an officer to tell the captain to send out an S. O. S. but were told the captain could not be moved," declared Evans Hampden, Negro.

(The S. O. S. from the Vestris was not sent out until Monday morning).

Engine Feeders Stuck on Job.

Their warning unheeded the engine feeders stuck to their job. It was 12 hours before that the first S. O. S. was sent out to the world. The starboard boiler was out. Life lines had to be stretched to the port boiler for men to swim along the sloping floor. Two trimmers held the man with the shovel as he attempted to get in the coal.

Hampden said that they were ordered to keep at least one boiler going so that there would be power enough for the radio when the captain decided to send out the S. O. S.

Thomas Edwards, white, first class steward, said the desperate situation in the engine room was known above deck most of Sunday. The stewards, with other members of the crew, were sent below to work on the engine room pumps, he said.

HIGH STUDENTS REPORTS FROM GIVE OPERETTA STOCK MARKETS

Opening Performance Scheduled for Tonight.

Under the direction of Miss Edith Rose, dramatic instructor, and Donald Hoover, music supervisor, members of the cast of the high school operetta, "The Bells of Barcelona," are preparing to bring their audience a well-rounded entertainment in their first performance tonight in the high school auditorium.

Dress rehearsal matinee, at which children from the grades will comprise the audience, will be given this afternoon. The operetta will be repeated Friday night.

Elaborate costumes are being supplied by a Columbus company specializing in productions of this kind. A special Spanish setting has been designed.

Senoritas, Senors, toradors and Spanish dancing girls with all the dashing music and color of Spain will enliven the plot of the operetta.

The story portrays the adventure of a scheming nobleman who carefully and cunningly lays his plans to capture a fortune and a bride. The girl, who really loves a young American captain, is forced to banish her dream of happiness and to follow her destined path to the altar. The wedding, however, is interrupted, the nobleman's designs are revealed and the hero and heroine "live happily ever after."

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Just about the time the directors of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey met around the green table to talk about the cash dividend on the common stock, brokers and traders were rushing about excitedly to buy the shares today at the highest prices since 1922.

That was the year of the big melon-cutting, when a 400-per cent stock dividend was declared for the benefit of the stockholders, and the stock in its new form sold at 37½. The next few years were unprofitable for the oil companies, due to the unrestrained gushing of the Texas and Oklahoma oil fields. Now the big oil pools have been brought under control and the gasoline companies are making money.

Standard Oil of New Jersey sold today at 54½, the highest price in six years, and Standard of New York, the next biggest of the Rockefeller family, moved up to 32½. Marland and Mid Continent Petroleum was active and strong.

BILLY SUNDAY HITTING TARGET

When an old man is saved, you save an individual; when a young man is brought into the kingdom, a life is saved. Failure on the part of Christians to live properly makes infidels of many. When you simply say "Not my will but thy will be done," you contribute to the making of a thief, infidel, wifebeater and denizen of the red light district. The church has lost its spiritual fire because it continues to hang on to the world. If Peter had been judged by his denial there would not have been the discovery of his latent power which caused him to preach at Pentecost. The devil is the most baneful foe to the human race today. You tell me how much you pray and I will give you your spiritual temperature. A shell was invented at the close of the war by which crews of ships would be put to sleep when the slide was struck; it would seem that such a shell has struck the modern church. You can not have success in service without a knowledge of the Bible. We need more of God and less of dress and strife in the churches.

Don't ask for a blessing when you do not obey the word of God. In Texas nobody is anybody unless their front gate is 90 miles away from the door. Women who can write papers on Ruskin and "The Lady of the Lake" can do personal work for the Lord. You can not tell God what you will or will not do; it is your duty to obey his injunctions. You can make a confession but not a proposition to God. Some preachers should cultivate naturalness and not an intonation of voice while speaking in their pulpits. Lincoln would stand with anybody that was right, but instantly parted company with him when he was wrong. I think that the Lord must be right-handed; most people are. We have no power to save any soul; it is ours to have them accept the requirement by which salvation is possible. How many people are there in your own block who do not attend church and you never have asked them to do so? The person for whom you cook supper tonight may be the very one to whom you should go as a personal worker. It is your duty to do personal work and mine to preach. The ignorance of most people in

Bible truths is lamentable and yet leaving out the fact that it is the word of God it contains the finest English literature extant. Head of Mariawit Sect Is Imprisoned; Trial Sensational. WARSAW.—Bishop Kowalski, head of the Mariawit sect who was accused of improper conduct toward the nuns of a cloister he had founded, has been sentenced to four years in prison. Of these he will have to serve only two years and eight months because of a recent amnesty law. The trial which lasted for several weeks was a sensation throughout Poland. Kowalski declared he was wholly innocent. "I am a reformer and all religious reformers have had to suffer," he declared. "I only hope that the Mariawit sect which merely wants peace and a return to original Christianity will survive." Switzerland is considering a government subsidy for new technical schools.

Dempsey Will Sign For Fight In New York, Says Tex Rickard

Uzcudun Possible Opponent

Jack Declares it All Depends on How He Feels.

By Les Conklin.
NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—"Jack Dempsey will sign a contract in January to fight a leading white heavyweight next summer at a New York ball park"—Tex Rickard.
"It will give me great pleasure to meet Dempsey at the Yankee stadium on June 15, 1929"—Paulino Uzcudun.
"I may fight and I may not, depending on how I feel next year. That's a long time off, and I'm a changeable guy," Jack Dempsey.
Interest in the scramble for Gene Tunney's vacated heavyweight title reached the boiling point today as a result of the above statements, made following a conference between the promoter and Dempsey late yesterday and dinner given by Paulino last night to Metropolitan sports writers.
Dempsey, who attended the dinner, played the issue of his comeback. But Rickard, who has just returned from Florida, said he was convinced that he had persuaded the former champion to make an attempt to regain his lost laurels.
It was learned that Dempsey had stipulated that his opponent must be one of the following group—Uzcudun, Jack Sharkey, Knute Hansen or Young Stribling. Dempsey also was quoted as saying that he must get a percentage of the receipts that will assure him half a million dollars for his end.
While Rickard professed to believe that the negotiations were as good as closed, Dempsey was his usual non-committal self.

Ohio, Illinois, Ancient Foes, Await Battle

Big Ten Rivals to Clash at Urbana Nov. 24.

CHAMPAIGN—URBANA, Ill., Nov. 15.—Too ancient football rivals, coached by two old pals from the same home town, will get together here November 24 when Ohio plays Illinois.
Back in 1913 two young coaches, both residents of the same city and graduates of the same university, cast their lots with the Big Ten conference as coaches who didn't know so much but were aspiring young men wanting to get along. This fall brings them into action against each other as the country's leading mentors.
The coaches are Dr. Jack Wilce of Ohio and Bob Zupke, Illinois mentor. Both attended the same high school in Milwaukee and both played football and won degrees at the University of Wisconsin. The Ohio-Illinois game is scheduled to be the valedictory for Dr. Wilce, who has threatened to retire at the end of this season.
Coach is Artist.

Zupke, perhaps the only football mentor in the country who is an artist doing very interesting work in oils, is one of the most successful coaches in the history of football. Illinois has won the Western Conference title four times and tied for it twice. Zupke's eleven finished in front in 1914, 1918, 1919 and 1927 and tied in 1915 and 1923.
Dr. Wilce turned out winners at Ohio in 1916, 1917 and 1920.

Several Ohio-Illinois clashes have decided Big Ten title honors.
Most famous of all games were those in 1919 and 1920. In 1919 the Illinois won at Columbus 9-7, wresting first honors from Harley's great crew in a thrilling finish. The Buckeyes came to Illinois field next year to win the game and the championship by the last play, a pass, the ball being in the air as the pistol cracked.

Under Zupke the Illinois have a margin of two victories over the Wilce-coached Ohioans, having won in 1914, 1918, 1919, 1921, 1923, 1924 and 1925.

Expect Great Crowd.
Wilce directed the Buckeyes to triumphs in 1916, 1917, 1920, 1922 and 1926. In 1915 the teams tied.

Strangely enough, only one Ohio State team defeated the Illinois at Columbus—that was the 1917 Buckeye championship eleven. The other four Ohio victories were won at Illinois in 1919, 1920, 1922 and 1925.

Wilce and Zupke always have been close friends and their rivalry, keen as it has been, has never affected their regard for each other. More than likely there will be some furtive snawling in the throat and moisture in the eyes as they shake hands in the Illinois stadium November 24.

The largest crowd that ever saw an Ohio State game at Illinois is expected.

GARVEY YALE'S ONLY CRIPPLE

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 15.—Johnny Garvey, halfback, was the only Yale regular remaining on the injured list today. Chaucery Hubbard returned to right half yesterday, bringing the Eli team up to almost its full strength for Saturday's game with Princeton. Butch Loud will fill Garvey's shoes Saturday.

TIGER CAPTAIN UNDER WEATHER

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 15.—It appeared likely today that the Princeton eleven would line up against Yale Saturday without Chuck Howe, captain and center. Chuck is laid up with a cold and injuries. Bill Caldwell, a junior, has first call at center if Chuck cannot start.

Tartan Upset Is Notre Dame Eleven's Goal

Irish Seek Revenge for 19-0 Defeat in 1926.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 15.—When Carnegie and Notre Dame meet at South Bend next Saturday, the stage will be set perfectly for Notre Dame to turn tables on the Tartans for the defeat that a near-championship Rockne machine suffered here two years ago.

In 1926, the Irish had decisively trimmed every major opponent, and were heralded as the champions of the country. In the east, they had to meet only the Carnegie Tech Tartans to accomplish a clean sweep and after that the schedule called for a struggle with Stanford on the Pacific coast. The experts eliminated Carnegie as a possible obstacle, and even Mr. Rockne was so little concerned that he stayed in Chicago to see the Army-Navy game. Mr. Rockne got telegraphic reports during his "off-day," however, that must have been disconcerting. When the last report reached him the game was over and the score stood Carnegie 19, Notre Dame 0.

A young man named Howard Harpster, a sophomore quarterback who hails from Akron, took a prominent part in the Skibo victory. He guided the team to a clean cut victory and for good measure booted two field goals across a goal line that wasn't used to that sort of thing.

Next Saturday, young Mr. Harpster, somewhat more mature and certainly a much improved player, will again attempt to lead his big red jerseyed playmates to victory over Mr. Rockne's proteges. He will lead the team this year as its captain and as one of the most important of the nation's nominees for All-American honors. It will be his third and last year as a wearer of the Tartan.

The Irish have a lot to settle with Mr. Harpster and his buddies. Two years is a short time in which to forget something which wasn't on the books and which apparently is not yet understood in some quarters. It will be the sweetest sort of revenge if the Irish can topple the Scotch at a period in the season when the Scotch are riding to national honors in a manner typical of Notre Dame's experience just two years ago.

For another matter, there is the honor of upholding a record that has been jealously guarded for 23 years. It has not been since 1905 that South Bend has seen a Notre Dame team go down to defeat on the home gridiron. Many a worthy team has tried it. Even the Tartans made an attempt in 1925 but came home, sadder but wiser young men, with a 25 to 0 trimming.

Notre Dame's efforts next Saturday to keep their 23-year record unblemished, and to secure sweet revenge for what happened in 1926, will mark the sixth gridiron meeting of the Irish and the Tartans. Of the five games played, the Tartans can claim the upset of 1926 as their only victory. The teams did not meet in 1927.

The records of the two teams this may be responsible for furnishing another big upset in the Missouri Valley conference.

But right now the Cornhuskers seem to rank high as the Pride of the West—or should we say Middle West.

Billiards

Bergner defeated Farrar in last night's three-cushion billiard match. The contest was close from start to finish. Farrar turned in high run of four.

Pardell and Bennett play tonight.

year indicate only that the game will be close and that neither one can be picked out as the favorite. Although the Tartans have been undefeated and have the scalps of such worthy opponents as W. & J. Pitt and Georgetown attached to their belts, Notre Dame, by virtue of its victory over the powerful Army team last Saturday, has effectively wiped out its earlier defeats by Wisconsin and Georgia Tech.

In preparing for the Irish, the Tartans have shown no disposition to be overconfident in their workouts this week. The Skibos knew, without being told by Coaches Steffen and Wadell, that Notre Dame will be the toughest opponent of all so far this season.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—In practice, the New York university eleven can stop the plays which Missouri is expected to use against the Violet on Saturday.

He's 'Constable' Now

Badgers Hold "Cowbell" Drill

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—As the zero hour for the "Cowbell" combat between Wisconsin and Iowa approaches, reports from the camps of the rival eleven indicate that football is getting more and more complicated with the passing years.

In order of their receipt, for example, we list various items pertaining to Saturday's game at Iowa City, which is more than likely to decide the year's championship for the current year.

1.—Glenn Thistlethwaite, Wisconsin coach, holds "Cowbell Practice." Students representing militant Hawkeyes were placed alongside the drill field, clanging the bells as the badger eleven went through its formations. The idea is to make the team feel at home at Iowa City, no matter how many cows are demoralized by their ornaments by rabid rooters.

2.—Iowa citizenry consult fortune tellers to determine the outcome of the game. Something must have slipped here, however, for the southsayers, it is reported, claim they read in the stars that a Wisconsin victory is in the offing.

3.—Statisticians who revealed the fact that there were six tons of beef and bone on the Iowa squad now check in with the information that the Hawkeyes eleven has rammed up and down football fields to the extent of nearly a mile. The exact figure is 4,893 feet—with the expectations that the other 477 feet needed for an even mile will be gained against Wisconsin.

GREEN STRESSES DEFENSIVE WORK

HANOVER, N. H., Nov. 15.—Defensive work is featuring the last stages of Dartmouth's preparation for Cornell.

JOHNSON CARRIES CORNELL HOPES

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 15.—Cornell's chances against Dartmouth are believed to hinge to a great extent on the condition of Maurice Johnson, the best passer on the squad. His ankle is weak.

AT BOSTON—Jack Britton, former welterweight champion, outpatient Larry Brignolia, of Cambridge, Mass. (10).

Will McCarthy be Boss With Hornsby on Squad?

He Will, Despite Rajah's Dominating Demeanor, Say Those Who Know Joe; Experiment, However, Will be Interesting.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—"Watch the Chicago Cubs," comes the word from the boys who see all, hear all and know nothing. "Watch the Cubs with Hornsby in there."

There's one thing you can always say for the boys. They are never any sillier than usual. With Hornsby playing second base and Joe McCarthy running the ball club, no one will be watching because it will be motivated by one of the best impulses of all emotions—human curiosity. No chemical laboratory ever attempted a more interesting experiment than will be supported in Chicago next spring.

There is little of the "clubhouse lawyer" about Hornsby. His emotions are too honest to tolerate even a bit of surreptitious coniving. He simply is impetuous, crazy to win, in fact, he is a ball player with only one possible liability. He prefers to do his thinking out loud.

Hornsby is Not "Deaf Mute."

Branch Rickey, Jack Hendricks and Jim Tierney have listened from left to right to some of his most candid thoughts without marked enthusiasm. The first two were managers of ball clubs on which Hornsby worked; the third is something of a one-man "Kitchen cabinet." All three are agreed that there is one outstanding trouble with Hornsby. He isn't a deal nut.

Will McCarthy overlook a few frank utterances from time to time? Undoubtedly. Joseph generally is credited with being a man of human understanding and an occasional expression of honest opinion about this and that is only part of the ball game, after all. But Joseph's family name is McCarthy and he comes by it very honestly.

"There's one thing you can bet on, no matter what happens," an American association man told the writer recently. "Joe McCarthy will boss any ball club he is managing."

This man knew McCarthy through all of the latter's years in the association. But he doesn't know Hornsby or he wouldn't be thinking along the lines his remark called to mind. Hornsby is no man to consciously and deliberately try to undermine another's authority. To all outward intents, he reported to Jack Slattery in St. Petersburg last spring with nothing in his mind except the matter of getting himself ready to give the best he had for the ball club.

Tells 'em What to Do.

Hornsby, however, did say a number of things to the boys in this rule of field captain and his tone never was the kind that lacks authority. He wasn't with the club three days before he had called some of the players off the gallows for smoking in the dressing room. That's Hornsby. Intolerant or carefree spirit; out of patience with mediocrity. He lives base ball; he breathes it. To those who don't share his enthusiasm, he becomes something of a fanatic, a pest.

Laughlin Grid Teams Battle On Newell Lot

Plants Four-Five to Clash With Six-Seven Outfit.

Homer Laughlin football teams will battle for inter-plant supremacy Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock on the Newell gridiron.

The teams involved in the scuffle are recruited from plants 4, 5, 6 and 7. The 4 and 5 forces are thrown together against the 6 and 7 outfit.

Buck Miller is piloting the 4 and 5 outfit and Pearl Dalley the opposition.

Four weeks ago they fought a 6-6 deadlock. Since then they've been recuperating. Now they're set to go again and expect to fight it out to a decision.

AT NEW YORK—George Courtney, Oklahoma middleweight, scored technical knockout over Paul Swiderski, Syracuse light-heavyweight (8). George Hoffman, former national amateur champion, won decision over Eddie Benson, Brooklyn (6).

Thrilling story of love of two girls for the same man

By HAZEL LIVINGSTON

Ralph... what he said to her, what she said to him... she went over every meeting, every word a hundred times. Had he really recognized her that night in the restaurant? Sometimes she thought he hadn't, until she learned her name. Well, suppose he hadn't? She didn't know him either, but that was because the newspaper pictures were so poor, and she was so blinded with tears the day he spoke to her in the orchard that she couldn't really see him...

"Well really!" Miss Abrams, who was in charge of the office, said to her first assistant, "I'm afraid I'll have to get rid of Miss Haines and it's a pity because she's such a neat typist, and so quick to get on to things, but she moans so—in love I suppose."

And the first assistant who had muddy skin and stoop shoulders said, "I know, and it isn't a very good influence on the other girls."

"I'll speak to her, Miss Abrams decided, but she didn't speak, she had lots to think of."

So Daphne continued to walk on air. She practically lived on air too. She was saving for a new hat. "I'll pay you back on Saturday," she told Ralph. "We get paid twice a month, on the first and the fifteenth. I've been there two weeks—just think—$12.50!"

"Outrage!" he growled. "You can't live on that. If I don't get you twice that I'll give up. I'm going to get you a real position, say fifty a week, that's a decent wage for a girl!"

"Even thirty would be wonderful!" she said wistfully, thinking of Mr. Gartz and the millinery business. Eighty-five dollars a month really isn't much when you need clothes.

But Ralph would not take back his ten dollars until he had found her a position, and though it weighed on her conscience, she was a little glad. She could buy a hat now, and maybe shoes.

There was an employees' lunch room in the building where coffee and chocolate was five cents, and tea was free. Daphne drank tea, eating her bread and jelly sandwiches quickly, so that she could spend the noon hour window shopping. The sandwiches she brought from home in a small brown paper package. A loaf of bread last three days, and if it was a little stale on the last day, isn't stale bread better for you?

She had the hat picked out long before she had the money to pay for it. It was French blue felt, with a sweet ripple brim and a demurely smart ribbon bow in the back. $3.98, marked down from ten, the saleslady said. "For a small deposit, dearie—"

But Daphne had to take a chance, until pay day there wasn't money for even the smallest of deposits. Every day she looked for it on its stand near the back of the store, and one day she had a terrible scare, thinking it was sold. But she found it, on a shelf, and on Saturday it was still there, waiting for her when she counted out the money. New shoes she bought too, and a pair of chiffon stockings, and a lovely pair of pale doekskin gloves that she found on the dollar table. She really couldn't afford the dollar, but they were so lovely, and so cheap.

And finally, with a feeling of reckless, guilty extravagance, a new pink powder puff, and some real French perfume. "Really, a quarter of an ounce is the least we ever sell, moddum!" The salesgirl made her feel quite small and cheap saying that, but once she was out of the store again her spirits rose. She could smell it through the paper that covered it, holding it to her nose furtively, when the other passengers weren't looking, on her way home in the street car.

Perfume... Crystal used to say men liked it... If only the weather would stay warm, so that she could go without her coat... The old blue dress wasn't bad, but the coat was awful...

Miss Viola saw her coming in with the hat bag and ran to open the door. "Did you get a new hat?" On... blue... rose is more my color. Do you mind if I try it on?"

Old Mrs. Hinckle put down her dustpan to fidget it too. "I hope it don't fade... it's nice, aber it wouldn't do for me."

Daphne almost burst out laughing... old Mrs. Hinckle with her darling blue hat! But her eyes filled... poor old things, working and working, and too old to have any fun...

"I was always partial to lavender," Miss Viola was saying, "maybe on account of my name. I always said to Mama, 'When I get married I'm going to have everything lavender. Lavender ribbons in everything.'"

"Foolish talk," the old lady grumbled, moving down the hall, carpet slippers flapping. "Foolish talk."

Somehow it took the pleasure out of her purchases, hearing old Miss Viola who was fat and faded saying "When I get married!" Not knowing, not guessing, that life had passed her by... what if it passed her by too, what if Ralph didn't really love her?

Oh, but he does! He does! She told herself feverishly, dressing oh so carefully, before the high, streaked mirror in her room.

Twice she went to the window, to see if there was fog blowing in, or the wind from the sea. But it was still warm and balmy. "Oh if he'll only get here early, before it gets cold—so I won't have to take my coat!"

When she was all ready, even to the doekskin gloves and the perfume behind her ears, she sat down with a book to wait. But she couldn't keep her mind on the printed page. Her whole being was tuned to the telephone... waiting for it to ring.

CHAPTER 15.

The door bell rang, but it was only Flora McCordie who had forgotten her key.

"Hello honey thanks for opening the door, what a cute hat, where are you going?"

Flora ran all her words together as if she were too lazy to separate them. Her voice was loud and coarse, with something husky sweet about it. A certain native niceness that was part of Flora, that layers of hard sophistication never quite covered. And good humor and kindness looked out of her shrewd, disillusioned eyes.

In spite of herself Daphne melted under the spell of Flora's warm "terest."

"Riding!" she said, and laughed. "Riding with Ralph McKevitt!" She laughed because she was holding something back... a show. She had never been to a real one, with a real orchestra, not an electric piano like the movie at home. Her eyes danced. She could just see herself, walking up the aisle in her new hat, with Ralph.

"Why don't he take you to dinner first?" Flora broke in on her thoughts. "He might do that much. Riding! That's cheap amusement. Doesn't he ever intend to spend more than the evening? What does he think a girl spends her time for?"

"I love to go riding!" Daphne cried hotly. "He has a wonderful car, and I just love to—"

Flora laughed. "I suppose so. 'I'm an old cat. But I like to see them loosen up, particularly when they've got it. Well, you're young—wait till you're an old campaigner like me, you won't go riding!'" Her long, light eyes rested on Daphne's blue dress, freshly pressed. Her hat and gloves and purse... all ready to go, and no coat.

"You'll need your coat, the fog's coming in."

Flora flushed. "I don't think I will."

"She never bought that herself," Mrs. Halliday observed to Mrs. Spellman whenever they saw it. Her big, freckled hand... it thoughtfully. She shifted awkwardly from one foot to the other.

"She's going to offer me her coat!" Daphne thought nervously. "Oh I wish I'd never seen her—I wish she'd go away—I don't want it!"

"You're foolish if you take cold trying to look beautiful for any man," Flora was saying. "Girls do crazy things... I used to. There was a gray coat I had... it was really made out of a blanket. Ma made it... I used to hide it under the lilac bushes, and go without a coat, all kinds of weather... wonder I didn't get pneumonia... The folks were kind of old fashioned... kept us warmly dressed and all that... and that was my coat, not much for pretty, but bully for stout..."

"I nearly froze to death!" She laughed again, stole another look at Daphne's averted face. "What a chump I was, you wouldn't believe it!"

RESCUED MAN ASKS $300 FOR DISASTER TALE

Chicagoan Seeks to Capitalize Adventure at Sea.

$50 FOR PHOTO

Last Person Taken Alive From Sinking Vessel.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Capt. Herman von Thülen, commander of the rescue ship Berlin, said today he believed that Carl Schmidt, of Chicago, was the last person taken alive from the ill-fated Vestris.

Schmidt, who was picked up by the Berlin, after swimming for 21 hours, sought to capitalize his adventure when he reached here. When press photographers at the pier tried to take his picture Schmidt pulled his coat collar up about his face and demanded $50 before he would consent to a photograph.

J. Schroeder, passenger agent for the Lamport and Holt line, who was at the scene, said to Schmidt: "Go ahead and let them take your picture. I will see that you get your $50 from the steamship line."

Then Schmidt consented and the cameras began clicking.

When reporters asked the Chicago man for the story of his adventure he asked $300 for his account.

"Isn't my story worth money?" demanded Schmidt.

It was pointed out that other survivors were telling their stories free of cost, when Schmidt interrupted: "Yes, but I was in the water 21 hours and no other passenger was."

Finally Schmidt was taken into a taxicab by one reporter who thought his paper would buy the story.

Capt. von Thülen told of seeing a man's hand waving from some wreckage. The hand belonged to Schmidt.

The Chicago passenger after a massage and some hot drinks and food became the liveliest person on the Berlin.

Each Drop Like a Whole Vegetable!

FRESH vegetables, it surely is worth trying! An actual test can be made in ten days. In this short space of time your stomach, and liver and bowels can be in shape to handle anything that's eaten! Children thrive on almost any diet when pure pepsin syrup is given just occasionally to help assimilation, and make elimination thorough and regular. Elderly people have a far easier time, too, where this ideal combination of laxative herbs and pure pepsin is appreciated. Dr. Caldwell discovered this innocent means of keeping bowels normally active in 1875. Now, you couldn't find a drugstore without this famous prescription, all put up with directions enclosed.
